—It is always a pleasure to chronicle a good deed, especially when it happens in one's own town. Camp 56, M. W. A., realizing that their brother Wm. Nosworthy, had met with a great affliction in the loss of his wife, and knowing that the expense of the search for her body would be great, generously appropriated twenty-five dollars, which was to be applied for that purpose. The fact that this aid was entirely unsolicited, makes it all the more worthy of publication.

—The steamer "Hattie" was launched this morning. She was assisted in her trip from the flat car on the belt line across St. Clairs stone boat into Rock River by Captain Stroup, engineer and first mate Ed Barth and Charles Green, Al Simonson, Will Rink and a force of men from Brink & Deeters planing mill, who first slid the handsome barge made by that firm for the "Hattie" into the river. There was a good audience of small boys and citizens in carriages. The boat is handsomely made and looks very graceful on the water. We think she draws very little water and will undoubtedly become a great favorite with our people who wish to enjoy a day's outing or a moonlight evening upon the river.

—Henry Miller, formerly of Palmyra, died at his home in Sterling at midnight Saturday. The funeral will be held at Prairieville to-morrow Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock. Deceased was born in the Province of Oldenburg, Germany, November 13, 1822, and came to America and to Illinois with his parents when fifteen years of age. In 1838 the family moved to Palmyra and the subject of our sketch lived upon the homestead there for more than fifty years, when he moved to Sterling. Mr. Miller was married September 29, 1850, to Miss Fredrika A. Klosterman. Nine children who were born to this couple are living. It is with deep regret that the TELEGRAPH chronicles the death of so worthy a man and citizen.

Base Ball.

The N. I. N. S. won Saturday's game if they were deserted by their star player Berry took his place, striking out thirteen shoemakers. His support was not the best; with three men on bases the catcher muffed the last strike and all four scored. It was a good exhibition of base ball if it was a hot day. Score, eleven to seventeen in favor of college.

The Dixon club and another shoe factory picked nine played at Maple Park, the former winning, twenty-three to nothing.

July Fourth.

Large bills just printed at this office foretell a grand Fourth of July celebration in this city this year. The program is under the auspices of the Fire Department and citizens. The attractions promised are: A balloon ascension and parachute leap; Henderson Shoe Factory Band of twenty-five pieces; Hose, Hook & Ladder, foot and bicycle races; exhibition of water throwing by the Hose Companyr parade of Fire Department, College Cadets, Park Artillery; pyrotechnical display in the evening, and the whole to conclude with a grand ball at the Opera House at night.

Republican Caucus.

A little the liveliest time in the way of a caucus, that has been seen in this city for years, took place Saturday. For several weeks the candidates for nomination for States Attorney have been working to get a delegation favorable to themselves. We understand that Mr. Morrison, in order to avoid a scramble here in Dixon proposed to divide the delegation giving each of the three one third of the votes, but that proposition was not accepted and so they went into the fight for all or nothing so far as Dixon was concerned.

Voting began at four o'clock, and at eight quite a full party vote, Republicans hope had been recorded.

It was not until after nine o'clock that the votes were counted and the result announced. We give below the official count.

Whole numbers of votes	717
Charles B. Morrison,	416.
James F. Sanford,	176.
Clyde Smith,	125.

Thus it will be seen that Morrison has a majority of 115.

It is probable that Morrison will be nominated on the first ballot on Wednesday as the towns of Amboy, Ashton, Dixon, Harmon, Palmyra, Marion, Nachusa and South Dixon, have already instructed for him. China has elected Sanford delegates, and Willow Creek went for Smith.

Welcome to Father Foley.

The brief announcement in THE TELEGRAPH Saturday evening that Father Hodnett would accompany the new priest to Dixon and introduce him to our people was sufficient notice to put members of the Catholic church on the qui vive for a full house at St. Patrick's the following day; and so, dispite the warm weather, an immense congregation in the morning kindly welcomed Father Foley. Many from the country present were agreeably surprised upon finding that they were to be treated to a sermon by their former beloved pastor the Rev. Thos. P. Hodnett, who presided at the morning service.

It being Trinity Sunday he chose for his text the gospel words from Saint Mathew, 8th chapter. His discourse was listened to with much pleasure from beginning to close.

After the sermon, in a few eloquent words Father Hodnett introduced the new pastor, whom he had known for years, and whom he could recommend to this people in high terms of praise, not only as a priest but as a citizen, scholar and gentleman.

Father Foley comes to us from Saint Columbkill's Church, Chicago, and judging from a brief interview with the gentleman, Saint Patrick's congregation and Dixon people generally may rejoice at this new acquisition to the ministry and society.

During Mass Father Hodnett passed through the church shaking hands and dropping a pleasant word with all present. He returned to Chicago this morning.

—As we witnessed the presentation of diplomas by Prof. E. C. Smith to his graduating class Friday evening our mind wandered back nearly thirty-eight years to the time when Mr Smith, already a veteran educator, came to this city and took a position among the faculty of the old Dixon college. He remained with that institution three years, and has been principal of our public schools for twenty-eight years, twenty-one years on the south and seven years on the north side Thirty-one years (nearly a third of a century) in one city devoted to the work of developing the intellect and moulding the characters of its young people has crowned the Professor with honors such as few attain to. To say nothing of the thousands of children who, during that time, have come under his influence for a longer or shorter period, he has graduated about one hundred and fifty pupils, and the class of '92 was not only the largest, but was certainly inferior to no preceding class that has been graduated from either of our public schools. Much credit is also due to Miss Earl, the assistant principal, for the excellent arrangement of the program, both of the Class Day and commencement exercises.

FORCED TO RESIGN.

Hale's Explanation of the Premier's Resignation.

CAUSED BY FRIENDS, NOT ENEMIES

The Ex-Secretary Expected Harrison To Be Nominated Before He Left Washington—Didn't Want the Nomination, but His Friends Insisted on Naming Him and He Resigned, a Step He Would Have Taken Later Anyhow—Talk of the Home-Going Delegates—Satisfaction and Dissatisfaction—Depew's Views.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—The Post publishes the following interview with Senator Hale: "Mr. Blaine told me the day he left Washington that he expected Mr. Harrison to be nominated," was the somewhat remarkable statement Senator Hale made to a Post reporter yesterday. "Mr. Blaine meant what he said in his letter to Mr. Clarkson. He did not want to be a candidate, and was not, but his friends insisted upon pushing him for the presidency, and seeing that they would do so, whether he was willing or unwilling, Mr. Blaine resigned. I do not think he wanted the presidency, for it does not require an election to that position to add anything to the laurels of James G. Blaine."

Had Long Intended to Retire.

During the further course of his talk Hale said that Blaine's withdrawal from the cabinet was not the result of hastily formed determination. To Senator Hale he had expressed a desire of leaving the place some months prior to the time when he did. Secretary Blaine had conducted to a successful ending matters in which as secretary of state he was greatly interested and that being accomplished, Hale said, Blaine found no reason why he should not cast aside the burdens of public office. Under no circumstances would he have remained much longer.

Had Laid Out a Line of Work.

Being asked whether the ex-secretary had retired from public life altogether, Senator Hale said he did not know. "I do not believe that he has," he continued, "and I do not want to be quoted as saying so, for what Mr. Blaine's plans for the future may be I am not prepared to speak. However, I know that he desired to leave the cabinet to pursue a line of work that he had laid down for himself, and to which he will no doubt devote considerable of his time."

GOSSIP OVER THE NOMINATION.

What the Winners and Losers Say About the Convention's Choice.

CHICAGO, June 13.—The Minneapolis delegates have all gone home. A large number passed through this city en route and were chased into corners, individually or collectively, where possible and required to tell the reporters what they thought. They were quite willing except in a few cases, one of which was "Czar" Reed, who wouldn't say a word for publication. What did they say? Why, what do they always say? The Harrison men were certain that his nomination was the best possible and a winning move from the start.

Blaine Men Who Are Reconciled.

Would the Blaine men vote and work for this president? Sure, said the Harrison men. Many were Blaine men Friday; but Saturday they were Harrison men. "We are all Harrison men now." That was what also many of the Blaine men said. Of course they would have preferred Blaine, but as to Harrison he was all right, and they would roll up their sleeves and go to work for him with zeal and enthusiasm.

Some of Them Disgruntled.

This was the talk of Warner Miller, Fassett and many other leaders of the Plumed Knight's forces. Platt didn't stop in the city, but his course was guaranteed by his friends. There were some, however, who still felt blue. A few didn't seem to know whether they wouldn't vote for the Democratic nominee and a few were lugubrious as to Harrison's ability to carry his own state or New York, and of these latter was W. R. Holloway, of Indianapolis. Another of the croakers was Wm. Pitt Kellogg.

Some Were Enthusiastic.

Then there was the man who had with him a large section of the convention enthusiasm at its most enthusiastic moment. Such a one was Commissioner O'Brien, of New York, who declared that Harrison would have the largest electoral vote that was ever cast for a president, and "you may mark that in your hat." Col. A. L. Conger, one of the original Blaine boomers was, not over his surprise at the way things went, but believed Blaine was the real choice of the people.

SOME REMARKS FROM DEPEW.

He Explains How Was It Done in a Brand New Way.

Chauncey M. Depew is dear to the interviewer's heart. He is not only easy to get to talk, but has something to say. Sometimes this something is witty, sometimes wise, sometimes both and always interesting. Yesterday he came out boldly against the statement so generally advanced as to the organization of Harrison's friends. It has been told over and over in the dispatches that this organization was something unique in its perfection. But the New York orator says there wasn't any at all to speak of.

No Bitterness Expected.

But let the brilliant New Yorker speak for himself—if he is reported correctly. Just before leaving the hotel yesterday he said in substance: "You need anticipate no bitterness on the part of those who voted for other candidates than Blaine. Mr. Platt will not oppose the nominee. The very manner in which the nomination came around will lead sooner than ever before to the dying out of any dissatisfaction with it. When people set out to knife a ticket they always have something to gain. They never knife a ticket merely for revenge. They may do so if through their revenges they see that they can destroy the rival of their favorite, and thus make probable the future success of that favorite. [Here Depew made an unkind allusion to what the Hill men might do if Cleveland was nominated.]

Selfishness Thy Name Is Politics.

"There is nothing so selfish as politics. The people are not selfish. They contribute their time and money to bring about that which they sincerely believe to be for the best interests of the country. But it is different with the politicians who manipulate for power and place. The opposition to President Harrison was concentrated on Blaine. Nobody believes for a moment that Blaine desires to re-enter public life. A few voted for McKinley and McKinley himself was for Harrison. There is no doubt that Clarkson, Platt and Quay honestly believed they could nominate Blaine. But the Minneapolis convention was run on popular principles.

Lack of Harrison Organization.

"Clarkson and the other leaders who stood with him could not feel the power of the great business interests of the country. Harrison had scarcely any organization to speak of and he had none of these great political leaders. But telegrams favoring him—not manufactured telegrams, but the honest expression of business men—came pouring into Minneapolis and they were very effective. Whitelaw Reid's candidacy had nothing to do with Blaine's defeat. In the first place he was not a candidate.

Editor Reid, Please Take Notice.

"I made up my mind, however, some time ago to secure his nomination if it lay within my power. Every one knows my feelings toward Blaine. Had he not written that letter to Clarkson he would have had my support. More than that if he had at an early date announced his candidacy Harrison would not have been a candidate. Take the whole situation now, and with Cleveland as the opposing candidate Harrison is probably stronger than Blaine would have been."

Harrison's Elements of Strength.

"Harrison had three elements of great strength. He was strong with the business men. I do not mean the railroad men in particular. All administrations are alike to the railroads, but to the manufacturer the administration means life or death. Nine-tenths of the business men of this country favored the renomination of Harrison, and I believe that the laboring men who are dependent upon the manufacturers and the business men felt the same way. Then, too, he was strong in the solidity of the old soldiers."

INDIANAPOLIS CELEBRATES.

The Columbia Club Received With Much Enthusiasm.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 13.—A crowd variously estimated at from 10,000 to 15,000 people greeted the Columbia club and the Marion club Saturday night at 11 o'clock on their return from Minneapolis. The Union station and the approaches to it were filled with enthusiastic Republicans decked with badges and equipped with flags, pictures of the president, horns and bells. There were probably 5,000 people in the line of march as it moved from the Union station to the club headquarters and the demonstration along the line, which was thronged with thousands, was tumultuously enthusiastic.

He Struck the Popular Chord.

The procession brought up at the Columbia headquarters, where when order was restored a number of addresses were delivered. Among the speakers were I. S. Gordon, president of the club; Smiley N. Chambers, General James S. Carnhan and George L. Knox. Mr. Chambers' remarks were of a conciliatory character and struck a popular chord. He said: "When we left we had no conception of the severity of the struggle, but after all it was a friendly contest between good and loyal Republicans. There were those who believed the Plumed Knight, the magnetic man from Maine, was the best leader to bring victory. Others favored the gallant author of the McKinley bill, but when the votes were in and counted it was found that the peerless statesman, gallant soldier and eminent orator, Benjamin Harrison, was the favorite.

The Opposition Surrenders.

"The leaders of the opposition who were most zealous yesterday sent word to us that 'Yesterday the fight for Harrison was yours and today it is ours as well as yours.' If any Republican thinks that we are divided let him be undeceived. Today our party stands as a unit in support of the ticket and the magnificent platform adopted."

Whitelaw Reid Serenaded.

WHITE PLAINS N. Y., June 13.—About 200 of Whitelaw Reid's neighbors serenaded him Saturday night at his residence, known as the "Ophir farm." When Reid made his appearance on the porch in front of his house the band played "Hail to the Chief." After the people had finished cheering and waving of hats, etc., had ceased, the host delivered a short speech, in the course of which he thanked the people of White Plains for their cordial greeting. He refrained from any mention of politics.

Characteristic of Carter Harrison.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—The president has received telegrams of congratulation from many public men, though it is noticeable that none is from Blaine. One, however, is from Carter H. Harrison, of Chicago. It says: "Accept hearty congratulation on nomination. Regret I cannot help you farther. Am sorry you are on the wrong side." Another is from Mrs. General Grant, as follows: "Accept my congratulations for your deserved success."

Wary Governor Flower.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., June 13.—Governor Flower was asked if he thought either Hill or Cleveland could defeat Harrison. The governor replied that he thought the Democratic party could defeat Harrison. This reply he made after a moment's serious thought and with a twinkle of the eye.

Echoes of the Convention.

Frank Hatton weeps because it wasn't a dark horse.

General Alger's son says the ticket pleases his father, who will work with might and main for its success.

The Democratic wigwam at Chicago is finished and the boomers have begun to arrive.

Among the names mentioned for the portfolio of secretary of state are Robert T. Lincoln and R. R. Hitt.

Ex-Senator H. W. Blair says the Chicago ticket will be Cleveland and Boies.

Maine Republicans now talk of sending Blaine to the United States senate.

The annual meeting of the National League of Republican clubs will be held at Buffalo Sept. 1.

The Pennsylvania and Ohio men organized Harrison and Reid clubs in their special cars en route home from the convention.

Foraker says: "We have not got used to hollering it [Harrison and Reid], but we shall in time."

Cleveland refused to say a word about the matter.

Vice President Morton is well satisfied that Whitelaw Reid was nominated instead of himself, so it is said. He had previously declared that he had no desire to run for the office again, as he was tired of the cares of official life.

DISTRUST THE LAW

Partial Victory of the Great Whisky Combine.

THE ANTI-TRUST LAW UNDER FIRE

Two Judges in Ohio Express Opinions That the National Statute Is Not Valid—Indicted Whisky Trust Men Discharged from Arrest in One Case, and the Decision Reserved in the Other—An Intimation That the Law Is Ex Post Facto—Remarks of the Judges.

CINCINNATI, June 13.—Acting President Lewis H. Greene of the Distilling and Cattle Feeding company of Peoria, Ills., Friday surrendered himself to answer the indictment of the United States grand jury at Boston under the anti-trust law. He was taken before United States Commissioner Bruce and waived examination. In default of $5,000 bail the commissioner committed the defendant into the hands of a deputy United States marshal. Immediately Greene's attorney sued out a writ of habeas corpus, returnable before the United States circuit court.

The Case Comes Up Promptly.

With the application for the writ was filed a petition alleging that the indictment charged no crime for which the defendant could be tried in Massachusetts. Greene refused to give bail and Saturday the writ came up before Judge Jackson. The argument of the case was begun by Elihu Root, of New York, for the defendant, and he was presenting the claim for the defendant when Judge Jackson suddenly, and against the expectation of every one present interrupted the argument with a question that brought up the direct issue and resulted in the disposition of the case. The indictment was under the anti-trust law of 1890.

Was the Law Ex Post Facto?

The judge said: "Now here is the trouble that has been running through the mind of one member of the court. This property was acquired in February, 1890—so the indictment alleges—it came under one ownership for one business that was then lawful under the legislature of Illinois, so far as appears in the indictment. Would not this act of July 2, 1890, if it attempted to affect such property or forbid the holding thereof—no matter how much is operated to control the business in that line—would it or not be an ex post facto law to declare it illegal?

Is There Any Monopoly?

"The indictment does not contain, as I gather from reading each count there, any charge which shows an illegal restraint of trade. Neither count makes out a case of illegality in the contract between the Boston purchasers and the distillery company or the defendant, neither in restraint of trade nor a conspiracy to injure anybody else. The first, third and fourth counts are bad. If it stands then upon the second count, where is the monopoly? The Boston people have nothing to do with the question of monopoly, the Boston purchasers do not touch that question. The question of monopoly relates alone to the ownership by these people, who are in the enjoyment of the property which they acquired before the passage of the act.

Cannot Make the Legal Illegal.

"It is not in the power of congress or of any state legislature to make illegal what was legal at the time that the thing was done. Especially in respect to the ownership of property what would be the result? Would these people have to surrender that property? That cannot be required. We will hear from the government on this case. There is no conspiracy, because there is only one party here that is charged with the offense. It is lacking of the element of conspiracy at common law.

A Monstrous Proposition.

"The question would then turn on the second count alone that charges them with the offense of owning three-fourths of the distilleries in the United States. When that ownership was acquired before the passage of the act it would be monstrous to say that there was a crime. Those are the points that we want to hear from the government on. We will allow these defendants to give their personal recognizance to appear here to abide the order of judgment of the court when called for."

ANOTHER ADVERSE DECISION.

Judge Ricks Also Questions the Validity of the Law.

CLEVELAND, O., June 13.—The whisky trust won a victory here Saturday in the United States district court. Judge Ricks handed down his opinion in the case that had been heard before him on an application by the district attorney to remove Warner Corning and Julius E. French to the district of Massachusetts, where they had been, with others connected with the so-called whisky trust, indicted on a charge of violating the act of congress of July 2, 1890. The defendants contested the granting of a warrant of removal, asserting a right as citizens of a judicial district other than that in which they were indicted to have the district judge of this district scrutinize the indictment and refuse the warrant, if the indictment was not sufficient in charging an offense under the law.

Ordered the Prisoners Discharged.

Judge Ricks ordered the discharge of the prisoners. Judge Ricks reviewed the charges at length and then said: "It is not averred that when the defendants purchased the seventy distilleries they obligated the vendors not to built other distilleries, or not to continue in the distillery business in the future. It is not averred that the defendants attempted in any way to bind the vendors to withhold their capital or skill or experience in the business from the public in the future.

Outside Output Not Limited.

"There is no averment that the defendants in any manner attempted to control the business of the remaining one-fourth of the distilleries in the United States or in any other way attempted to limit their output or by agreement with them control the price at which the product should be sold or in anyway restrain their trade. There are no contracts averred as between the defendants and their customers which is in restraint of trade. Their acts are rather intended to increase their trade, but not by restraining the liberty of the customers to deal with others.

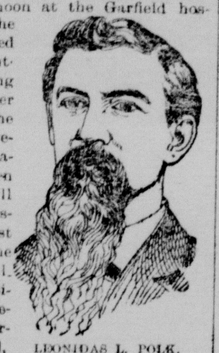

Too Sweeping in Its Provisions.

"If these acts are illegal and in restraint of trade, and they constitute a monopoly under this act, it may well be denominated an act to restrain legitimate enterprise and limit and qualify the ownership of property. The acts charged are common and frequent to any branch of manufacture and trade, and if the defendants are guilty of making sales of their products as set forth in the indictment the act is more sweeping in its provisions than ever contemplated by congress."

LEONIDAS POLK IS DEAD.

The "Last of Earth" Comes to the Leader of the Alliance.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Leonidas L. Polk, president of the National Farmers' Alliance, is dead. The end came at 11:15 Saturday afternoon at the Garfield hospitat, where he had been removed for treatment. Blood poisoning caused by bladder trouble was the cause of his demise. The patient had been lying seriously ill at his private residence for the past ten days. The result of a consultation of physician was his removal to the Garfield hospital, where an operation was deemed the only means of saving his life. He became unconscious Friday afternoon, from which condition he never rallied and it was decided not to perform the operation.

LEONIDAS L. POLK.

Some Notes of His Career.

When the end came Mrs. Polk, who had just arrived in the city, was at his bedside. Telegrams from all parts of the south have been received inquiring after Mr. Polk's condition, and he has been daily visited by prominent men of the Farmers' Alliance. He was a very probable candidate of the Alliance for president of the United States. He was born in North Carolina about 55 years ago and had served through the rebellion, in the southern army. After the war he went into politics and held several state offices, including legislator. Then he printed The Progressive Farmer, and through that became interested in the Alliance, to the presidency of which he was elected three times.

Was a Valuable Partisan.

Colonel Polk was of great value to his party as a stump speaker and was an able writer on topics of particular interest to the farmers. The People's party will meet in convention in Omaha in about a month and the probability is that had Colonel Polk survived he would have been nominated for president or vice president if the party should have decided to put a ticket in the field. His remains have been taken to Raliegh, N. C., for interment. He leaves a wife and three children.

CHICAGO, June 13.—The Boston League base ball club is five games and 80 points ahead of any club in the combination, Brooklyn being second and Cincinnati third. A White G. A. R. Post in New Orleans Recognizes Negroes.

NEW ORLEANS, June 13.—Ever since Commander-in-Chief Palmer, of the G. A. R., issued his order calling on G. A. R. posts in this state to recognize the colored posts the former have been talking of surrendering their charters rather than obey the order. Contrary to general expectations, however, Mower post, No. 1, at a meeting called for the purpose of deciding on the advisability of surrendering its charter refused to take the step. Eighteen members of the post, eight more than required under the constitution of the order, voted against the surrender. The action of the post is regarded as a decisive victory for the colored posts, assuring them the support of the white members of the order.

Eruption of Mount Vesuvius.

NAPLES, June 13.—The eruption of Mount Vesuvius continues. At about the middle of the Atrio del Cavallo, the deep sickle-shaped valley which separates Monte Somma from Vesuvius proper, a small cone has appeared, from which two streams of lava are flowing. A shower of small stones and scoriae is being ejected from this cone, above which dense clouds are hovering. Stones are also being ejected from the principal crater. These phenomena are accompanied by prolonged and ominous subterranean rumblings. The Meteorological observatory thinks that the eruptions will cease at the next full moon.

Dear Sir:—A sample of KRAUSE'S HEADACHE CAPSULES was left in my husband's office a few days since, and as I am subject to headaches—neuralgic nervous, and in fact every other kind—he thoughtfully brought the sample box home. The very next day I had a chance to try them and ONE CAPSULE relieved me in less than half an hour. Next day I was attacked again, took another capsule with the same delightful result, in less than half an hour my head felt as well as ever, with no bad feeling as the after result. I have had these terrible headaches for twenty years, and have tried every remedy I ever heard of, but nothing I have ever taken has cured or relieved me as QUICKLY as KRAUSE'S HEADAEHE CAPSULES.

ROBBERS GET RICH.

Two of the Fraternity Do a Bold Deed.

"HELD UP" IN BROAD DAYLIGHT,

And Right in the City of Oakland, Cala. —The Secretary and Bookkeeper of the Judson Iron Works Forced at Pistol's Point to Give Up $16,000 in a Crowded Car — The Robbers Escape—Another Gang Capture $52,000 at Genesee, Ark.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 13.—The boldest robbery ever committed in this vicinity occurred Saturday morning across the boy in Oakland, when two men in a crowded car were robbed of $16,000 in coin, which they were taking to the Judson Iron works to pay off 400 workmen. The coin was in possession of Secretary Gilson and Bookkeeper Mortensen, of the company, who started with it from San Francisco on the 11 o'clock boat. They occupied a seat in a car on the Berkeley train next to the baggage car.

An Order Frequently Heard.

As the train slowed up at B street two men entered the front door, walked down the aisle, stopped suddenly before Gilson and Mortensen and presented pistols and demanded the money bags. "Hold up your hands," was the order, and Gilson and Mortensen had no option but to obey. "Now hand over that money," continued the leader. Gilson surrendered the money without parley, but dropped a bag containing $15,000 on the floor, hoping it would not be noticed.

Not That Kind of Scoundrels.

But the desperadoes were not to be fooled. They ordered the other bag handed up, and it was done without delay. Simultaneously with the demand for the coin the train started, and the two robbers backed out of the car with the money, covering Gilson and Mortensen with their pistols as they escaped. Gilson went out on the platform and emptied his revolver at the fleeing robbers. One passenger said that the smaller of the robbers staggered after the firing, but this part of the story was unconfirmed.

Drove Away In a Buggy.

The robbers had provided themselves with a horse and buggy with which to escape and drove rapidly away. Pandemonium reigned in the car. Overyone seemed to lose his head. The train did not stop. Neither did Gilson nor Mortensen jump from the train to chase the fugitive robbers, but both continued on to the next station, where the Judson works are situated. Everybody at the company's works was very much excited and valuable time was lost in notifying the police.

Had Made It Shot Proof.

The buggy was found later hitched in Oakland. The sides had been covered with sheet iron so as to guard against bullets in case the two men were fired upon. Any attempt to recover the money at the time would have been fatal, for the robbers were shrewd enough to keep the passengers covered with their revolvers until they reached the car door.

BURGLARS MAKE A BIG HAUL.

They Crack a Safe and Walk Away with $52,000.

TEXARKANA, Ark., June 13.—Saturday night burglars broke into the office of the Bodeau Lumber company at Genesee, a station on the Cotton Belt, eight miles west, and cracked the safe. They secured $52,100 in cash and securities.

Three-Mile Foot Race.

PITTSBURG, June 13.—The greatest three-mile foot race ever run in this city was contested Saturday afternoon at Recreation park between Peter Priddy, of Pittsburg, and Mike J. Kennedy, of Chicago. The race was for $250 a side, in addition to which the winner was to receive 70 per cent. of the gate receipts and the loser 30 per cent. The men passed and repassed each other several times until they had gone 2½ miles, when Kennedy began to weaken. After running about 100 yards of the last lap Kennedy stumbled and fell. He walked to the starting point greatly distressed and completely done up. Priddy slackened his speed and trotted home the winner in 15:43½.

Narrow Escape from a Horror.

PITTSBURG, June 15.—In front of the Rochester station Saturday an express on the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago crashed into the locomotive of a Cleveland and Pittsburg Railroad excursion train. Two engines were hauling the express. Fireman Jacobs jumped and was badly cut about head. Engineer Anderson received a very severe shoulder sprain. No one on the excursion train was seriously hurt.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—The agreement made between the leaders of the two great parties in both houses not to press to a vote any of the tariff bills or the silver bill will continue until after the Democratic convention. The return of Republican senators will give the senate an opportunity of doing some work, but it is probable that the entire week in that body will be devoted to oratory.

His tale of suffering is one of horror.

HARTFORD CITY, Ind., June 13.—The entire plant of the Crescent paper mills, one of the largest in Indiana, was destroyed by fire at 7 o'clock Sunday morning. The works were the property of Fort Wayne parties. Loss, $88,000; insurance, $56,000.

SORT OF AN OVERTURE.

The Diversion With Which a Political Meeting Began in Tralee.

DUBLIN, June 13.—William Redmond Edward Harrington and Henry Harrington were in Tralee yesterday afternoon to address a large meeting of Parnellites. About 3,000 persons were present. They remained perfectly orderly until the chairman prepared to introduce the speakers, when it became apparent that the meeting had been packed with anti-Parnellites. Then loud shouts were raised against Harington and Redmond and cries of "traitor," "blackguard" and "Ireland's enemies." The Parnellites raised counter shouts and began cheering for Parnell.

Two Fights Going in No Time.

Two fights were started near the platform, and one of the disturbers was knocked senseless. This was the signal for a general row. Those on the outskirts of the crowd pressed in toward the platform to aid their friends until all were so tightly packed that even the most peaceably inclined ones had to join the fight in self-defense. A party of anti-Parnellites attacked the band with clubs, knocked down five of them, put the rest to flight, captured all the instruments, and stamped them to pieces. When Harrington stepped down from the platform to help pacify the combatants he was struck in the shoulder with a stone and received on the back a blow from a heavy stick. He hastily returned to the platform.

The "Peelers" Quell the Riot.

After the fight had lasted about ten minutes an extra force of constables arrived and they broke through the crowd, clubbing the hostile parties apart, and beating the leaders into temporary submission. The wounded were then carried away and the meeting became quiet enough for the speakers to proceed. About twenty-five men were severely injured in the riot. The police remained present throughout the meeting to prevent a recurrence of the disturbance.

BABY CONTINUES TO SQUALL.

In Spite of a Nurse Maid's Endeavors to Stop the Disturbance.

LUBECK, June 13.—A nurse girl named Kuckurtz, who is 14 years old, made a cruel and determined attempt to kill a 4 months-old baby which she was employed to take care of. Her animosity toward the child was caused by its constant squalling. She pushed three marbles down its throat, but the baby swallowed them and kept on exercising its lungs as if nothing had happened. The girl then tried small stones, which the little one also succeeded in swallowing without interfering with its capacity for screaming. The girl's last action had, however, been witnessed and she was arrested and is now in jail. A doctor safely relieved the child of the stones and it goes on yelling.

A Clegerman's Opinion.

Rev. D. D. Odell, the pastor of he First Baptist Church of Peoria, and one of the most zealous clergymen in the west, has just built one of the finest stone edifices for his congregation that can be found anywhere. It is an ornament to the city and a monument to his zeal. He is one of the most public spirited and progressive men, entirely unselfish and devoted to his sacred calling. He says: „Reid's German Cough and Kidney Cure is the best thing for a cold or for hoarseness that I ever saw. I can heartily recommend it." This testimony is exceedingly valuable, for it is evident that it is based upon actual experience. This is the case with all the testimonies that we present. Every witness is a person of character and standing in the community where he resides. If your druggist will not get this remedy for you, write to us. Large bottles 50 cents, small ones 25 cents.

Geneseo News: A Hoopeston, Ill., man blew out the gas in a Chicago hotel, and when told that it was leaking, set a picture under the jet. A Prophetstown man was charged extra at a Chicago hotel because he left the gas burning all night. "Yer darn fool," he said to the clerk, "doesn't it say on a sign right over the gas dingus 'Don't blow out the gas?' I wanter know."

—Among other distinguished Rebel Generals Jubal A. Early was asked by a New York paper for his opinion of General Grant, and the answer came: "I must decline to furnish anything in regard to General Grant for publication, as my estimate of him is very different from that of persons whose opinions you would desire to publish." Whereupon the Richmond Times says that "the reply is just what those who know General Early would have expected him to write, and it is what is most gratifying to the great bulk of the Southern people." We believe that the Times is partly in error. There are southern people THE TELEGRAPH believes who hold the memory of Grant in respect. General Early may have good reasons for not liking Grant. That General Early should cherish savage resentment against the memory of that great soldier, is not strange to a person who takes into account the fact that it was in a campaign planned by Grant and executed by Sheridan under Grant's direction, that Early was thashed three times within thirty days in the valley of the Shenandoah.

At Harrison there is a peculiar state of affairs in the prosperous Congregational church at that place. Out of all those who attend there isn't a male who is a member of the church. The attendance is large at each service, but for some unknown reason no man has ever joined the society. The ladies run the thing to suit themselves, but have called in several gentlemen who are not members, to act as trustees and fill other offices. It is doubtful whether there is a similar case of the kind in the country.—Ex.

A Geneseo married man was caught fair and square by his wife in the act of hugging and kissing a young lady visitor. In words few and not far between she bade the gushing girl and the careless husband to git. They got. In a few days the wife got short on groceries and at last accounts was looking up her husband to ask him to produce some fodder by special request.—News.

Thomas Young, who successfully handled the crowds at the Rock River Assembly last year, will again manage the mammouth hotel. The Lutherans are making strenuous efforts to outdo their last year's success; they have good men at the helm, and it how looks as though they may succeed.—Sterling Gazette.

Fifty men are on the pay roll at the piano factory and five hundred dollars are the weekly wages. With one or two more factories in contemplation completed, Oregon will get in the band wagon. I. M. Rice, proprietor of the factory says the water power saves him about $1,800 a year.—Independent Democrat.

Brooklyn Life: Jack—"You know how madly I worship Clara Gushington?" His Sister—"Yes, Jack, and I think she is interested in you." Jack—"I have bought her a beautiful pair of bracelets but I am afraid they are a little large." His Sister (faintly)—"Heavens, Jack! Those are not bracelets!"

Model Locomotive Engines.

The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad has just placed in service on its Chicago Division three new passenger engines, built at the Baldwin Locomotive works, after new designs furnished by the General Superintendent of Motive Power of the B. & O. Company. The engines weigh 113,000 pounds, have driving wheels six feet six inches in diameter, cylinders 19 by 24 inches, and are without doubt the finest passenger locomotives running into the city of Chicago today. Companions of these new engines have developed wonderful power and speed in hauling the famous Royal Blue Line trains, which run between New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington, over the Philadelphia Division of the B. & O. Railroad. The B. & O. has added over forty new, high class engines to its motive power equipment within the last sixty days, and others are under construction. While constantly adding engines of approved design and highest grade to its motive power, and passenger coaches of Pullman standard to its rolling stock, the B. & O. is also expending large amounts for additional second and third tracks and sidings, and improved facilities at terminal points. By the time the World's Fair is opened for the reception of visitors the B. & O. will be well equipped to handle, expeditiously, the large volume of passenger traffic which will naturally seek this picturesque route from the Atlantic seaboard to Chicago.

Farmers' Club.

Remember the club picnic at the residence of D. D. Decker on Wednesday, the 22nd inst. A good entertainment may be expected, providing the day proves to be a favorable one. Let all turn out who can and enjoy a day of recreation and pleasure. Responses to toasts and addresses by our county superintendant and Rev. Skilling are promised, and probably an essay or two will be given. A good literary entertainment is therefore assured in addition to a good dinner.

SEC'Y.
